DATA PROTECTION SERVICE

Secure Systems, Safer Schools

Data Protection in Schools

Data protection is about more than compliance - it's about keeping students, staff, and families safe while maintaining trust across your school community.

Schools handle a wide range of sensitive information every day. Effective data management ensures this information is secure, accessible, and used appropriately while supporting smooth day-to-day operations.

! Why It Matters

- ✓ Schools manage significant volumes of personal data daily
- ✓ Legal responsibility under the Data Protection Act 2018
- ✓ Essential for safeguarding students, staff, and families
- ✓ Supports efficient, consistent school operations.

The Challenge

Data protection can feel overwhelming alongside the demands of school leadership. The requirement to appoint a Data Protection Officer adds a critical role that requires specialist knowledge and ongoing attention.

Data Protection Officer (DPO) Service

Under the Data Protection Act 2018, schools are required to appoint a Data Protection Officer (DPO).

Our service provides dedicated, education-focused DPO support designed for schools, trusts, and wider education settings. Many of our specialists are former teachers and senior leaders, alongside experienced data protection professionals.

This ensures our guidance is both compliant and practical in real school environments.

Compliance You Can Rely On

We provide clear, practical guidance to support your school in meeting the requirements of the Data Protection Act 2018, translating complex regulations into manageable, day-to-day practice

Built for Schools

Our support integrates seamlessly into school operations, helping leadership teams manage data protection with clarity and confidence.
